FACTORY PLAN IS EXPLAINED

WINDOW SHADE PROJECT DISCUSSED AT MEETING.

WOULD LOCATE HERE

Plant Would Manufacture Attachment Recently Invented by Eugene Yehle—St. Louis Men Here.

The proposition of the Sure-Grip Window Shade Co. to establish a factory in Maryville was explained to local business men at a Chamber of Commerce meeting held at the Linville Hotel last night.

C. I. Mooney, M. J. Mooney and W. T. Barnett of St. Louis, interested with Eugene Yehle of Maryville in the business, were present at the meeting last night and made short talks. J. F. Hull presided.

In explaining the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Hull told of the need for industrial development in Maryville and what factories would mean for the city. In the proposed inland waterways system in the Middle West, a number of factories would be relocated in order to have advantage of the lower transportation costs, he said.

Eugene Yehle, inventor of the Sure-Grip window shade, explained its purpose and showed models of the shade and holder as well as the patent rights. When the organization is completed, Mr. Yehle will become president of the company as well as general manager. He will retain a controlling interest in the company.

C. I. Mooney of St. Louis, who would be sales manager and buyer for the company, told of the saleability of the Sure-Grip window shade. In about two and a half weeks, Mr. Yehle said, a salesman sold about $2,500 worth of the shades without any special effort or advertising. These shades were sold in Florida and Alabama and repeat orders are now being received from these points, he said. The next step in the development program, Mr. Mooney said, would be to try to sell the shades to the automobile industry for use in closed cars.

M. J. Mooney of St. Louis, who would be secretary and treasurer of the new organization, said that up to December 31 last, more than $5,000 worth of the window shades had been sold without any advertising campaign. Mr. Mooney said he was assistant city treasurer during the Wells administration in St. Louis and also had held a position in the internal revenue office at St. Louis.

W. T. Barnett, also of St. Louis, told of the organization of the company and the proposed personnel. He also called attention to the development of the product and how it had sold without any advertising campaign whatever.

J. B. Cummins also made a short talk in which he related his experiences in selling the Sure-Grip window shade. He said he had sold a number of these shades and believed the proposition worth while. Mr. Cummins also said the shade had also given general satisfaction wherever used. About forty-five persons were present at the dinner and meeting last night.

Local Owners Still Lag in 1926 Licenses

At Present Rate, Several Hundred Will Be Unable To Get Tags By End Of February, Caldwell Says.

One hundred and sixty-three automobile license plates for 1926 were sold at the Maryville Chamber of Commerce office. Of this number, 109 were for Fords. Sixteen other makes of cars were represented in the remainder of licenses issued during the day.

But thirty-seven licenses were purchased by Maryville automobile owners. At the present rate, several hundred local motorists will be unable to purchase their licenses by the end of this month. During the seven days automobile licenses have been sold at the Chamber of Commerce office, 1,018 sets of plates have been issued. Of this number, only a few have been bought by local car owners.

The work of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce in issuing automobile licenses received favorable comment in the bulletin published by the United States Chamber of Commerce of which Colvin Brown, who spoke here last fall, is editor.

James Hines Arrested on Grand Jury Capias

Fourth Conception Junction Man To Be Indicted Is Charged With Gaming Last April.

James Hines of Conception Junction was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell on a capias warrant issued as a result of a grand jury indictment charging gaming. This is the tenth capias to be served. There were sixteen indictments.

Hines' offense is alleged to have taken place in April, 1925. Seven of the other indictments are against other Conception Junction men, charged with gaming and liquor offenses about the same time. They are Cornelius Brady, Emory Smith and James Sheridan.

"LONG ARM" REACHES OUT

YOUNG FARMHAND IS ARRESTED ON NEBRASKA CHARGE.

HAD STOLEN HARNESS

Confessing Theft, Frank Daken Returns With Owner to Place Where Recent Bride Waits.

The "long arm of the law" reached out yesterday from Gibbon, Neb., 180 miles west of Omaha, to tap the shoulder of Frank Daken, young farmhand who has been working for Clay Holladay, near Graham.

Daken was arrested on complaint of Carl M. Stierley of Gibbon, after a search of the barn of young Daken's father, Ethel Daken, also near Graham, had revealed a set of harness which Stierley declared had been stolen from him about a month ago.

Stierley arrived in Maryville yesterday and enlisted the aid of the Nodaway county officers. He was issued a search warrant from the justice court of W. L. Johnson and the harness he sought was found hanging from a nail in the Daken barn. It was a double set of fancy work harness, which Stierley valued at $100.

Daken was married recently to a young woman living near Gibbon and spent several weeks there. When he returned here, his bride remained with her parents until he should send for her. He is said to have confessed the theft of the harness.

Stierley had been deputized as a Nebraska officer and left with Daken for Gibbon.

Burial was in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

Mrs. Shelton removed to St. Joseph sixteen years ago. She was 63 years old. Besides the sister in Maryville, she is survived by a son, Dr. W. J. Shelton, St. Joseph; a brother, E. C. Durkee, Joplin, Mo., and a sister, Mrs. R. L. Limerick of Savannah.

William Mozingo Observes Birthday

Well Known Resident, Born Two Miles Southeast of Maryville, Is 81 Today.

William Mozingo, a life-long resident of Nodaway County, today is celebrating his eighty-first birthday. Mr. Mozingo lives at 515 West Second street. He was born, just eighty-one years ago today, on a farm about two miles south of what is known as Mozingo branch, southeast of Maryville.

In the Civil War, Mr. Mozingo served with Company C of the Fourth Missouri Cavalry. In 1871 he was married to Miss Polly Thompson and they have four children, Julia and Alta, who are at home, Mrs. Charles Kalstrup, who lives on West First street, and Erb Mozingo, who occupies the home farm.

2 LOCAL MEN INVENT LOCK

LEE MEEK AND FRANCIS BARMANN SEEK PATENT.

ALREADY BEING MADE

Device Made To Prevent Theft of Braces as Well as Tire and Rim.

Maryville is gradually coming to be a city of inventors. This morning two more popped into light with the announcement of a new spare tire lock, the product of Lee Meek and Francis Barmann. This lock, which, according to the inventors is an improvement over anything on the market, is known as the B and M Tire Lock, and the patent applied for calls for its manufacture in sizes for all types of automobiles.

The feature of the lock, according to Mr. Meek, is the fact that it makes stealing of spare tires more difficult in that it clamps onto the carriage which supports the spare. "All other makes merely lock the tire onto the braces," Meek said. "On a Ford, for instance, it requires only about 30 seconds for a clever crook to steal tire, rim, braces and all, even though the tire be padlocked. Then, at his leisure, he can saw the lock away."

The new device would make it almost impossible for anyone to take the braces from the car, since the lock threads onto one of the bolts of the brace and is then padlocked to the tire.

A contract has been let by Meek and Barmann for the manufacture of the locks by the Wilde Drop Forge and Tool Co., of Kansas City. The first model of the invention was completed on October 20, and a patent has been applied for.

The Kansas City company agreed to deliver 1,000 lock to Maryville by January 1, but delays made this impossible. Some have arrived, however, and are on display at the Barmann Auto Co. Others are due the last of this week.

Although the patent will cover all makes of cars, locks for Fords only are now being made. Meek and Barmann are now working with a Kansas City promotion company for exclusive rights for sales throughout the United States. These provisions call for a sale of 10,000 locks a month.

AN APOLOGY.

Followers of Orphan Annie may have been somewhat puzzled at the cartoon which appeared in the Democrat-Forum and Tribune yesterday. Two strips are given today in order that the Orphan Annie fans will not get behind.

The concerts, all of which will be given in the College auditorium, will be open to the public. In the last six months the bands and orchestras of the two institutions have been progressing rapidly, and the concerts should be worth while. Mr. Hickernell is in charge of the music of both schools.

Auto Thievery Not So Flourishing Here

Larger Cities Suffer From Depredations, But Local Officers Recover More Cars Than Are Stolen.

Nodaway County was not a profitable field for automobile thieves last year, according to Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell. Not more than four cars owned by Nodaway County residents were stolen, the sheriff estimates, and each of them was recovered. In addition to this record, the local officers caught at least three cars here that had been stolen elsewhere. In several cases the thieves themselves were arrested and severely punished.

In striking contrast to the situation here is that in the larger cities, especially Kansas City, as indicated by the large number of notices of stolen cars sent to Sheriff Campbell by insurance companies, detective agencies and others. Every morning brings its quota of postal cards bearing the descriptions of stolen cars, and the local officers are always on watch for those that look "suspicious."

Leo and Howard Renshaw of Armour, S. Dak., are visiting at the home of their uncle, W. J. Renshaw, and with other relatives. They are en route home from a trip to California and southern points.

Miss Permelia Rhodes of Auburn is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Andy Slagle, in Ravenwood. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rhodes of Maryville visited at the Slagle home last evening.

DEFENSE PLAN TO MEET VETO

PRESIDENT OPPOSED TO SEPARATE AIR SERVICE.

BACKS MORROW BOARD

New Controversy Seen As Result of Davis' Inquiry—Kelly Field Officer Tells Of Inefficient Planes.

Washington, Feb. 9.—President Coolidge is opposed to any compromise on the proposed aircraft legislation and if Congress passes any bills for a separate air service, the thought was plainly conveyed at the White House today that they will be met with his veto.

The President, it was stated, stands squarely on the Morrow board's report, which is commanding little support Congress.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A new air service controversy blazed across the horizon today as a result of the investigation ordered by Secretary of War Davis to ascertain the extent of "lobbying" by officers of the air service.

Behind the new inquiry was seen the war department's threat to mete out to officers who "talk out of turn" the same fate visited upon William Mitchell.

President Coolidge and Secretary of War Davis are reported as being determined to stamp out opposition to the administration's policies in the air service.

The air service buzzed today with reports that Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, was marked down for discipline. General Patrick has steadfastly continued to endorse a separate air service before committees in Congress. This has been extremely disconcerting to the administration in its efforts to push the Morrow board's recommendations through Congress.

The Davis investigation threatened today to provoke another outburst in Congress.

San Antonio, Feb. 9.—In less than a week after Secretary of War Davis declared that American air service equipment is equal if not superior to any in the world, Col. C. C. Culver, commander at Kelly Field, announced today that $400,000 worth of pursuit planes would have to be scrapped because of structural defects.

Colonel Culver has suspended pursuit of flying training indefinitely on account of the inefficient conditions of the scout planes, he said. Approximately fifty-five planes are affected by the drastic order. The majority of the ships are of war-time material, manufactured in England. For the last six months, the advance flying school has condemned on an average of nine planes a month, it was announced.

Continental Stock to Ward Bakery President

Company Then Acquires Contract For Acquisition Of St. Louis Concern In Big Merger Project.

New York, Feb. 9.—George C. Barber, president of the Continental Baking Corporation, appeared before the federal trade commission today and revealed that two million shares of Continental Co. B common stock was delivered to William B. Ward in return for a contract owned by Ward for the acquisition of the American Baking Co. of St. Louis.

The transfer was made soon after the organization of the Continental on November 6, 1924, the witness said. Barber said the stock of the original allotment of the purpose to Ward was for the technical purpose of making the shares fully paid and non-assessable.

Donald Goforth and Carl Fisher attended the concert given Sunday by Sousa's Band at the Lyceum Theatre in St. Joseph.

Pershing Home Again; Steps Are Faltering

General Lands At Key West After Several Months Official Business In South America.

Key West, Feb. 9.—General John J. Pershing set foot again on American soil today when he arrived here aboard the American cruiser Denver, from Arica, Chile, where he has been serving as chairman of the Tacna-Arica plebiscite commission. He appeared pale and his steps somewhat faltering as he bid farewell to the officers and crew of the Denver. He had to pause several times during his speech. General Pershing leaves tonight for Washington where he will render his official report to the President. He later will enter the Walter Reed Hospital.

SENATE KILLS TAX PUBLICITY

UPHOLDS INCOME SECRECY AFTER LONG DEBATE.

FIRST NIGHT SESSION

Reed and Williams, Missouri, Senators, Take Opposite Sides In Vote On Issue.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Repeal of the law allowing publication of the amounts of income tax payments was approved last night by the senate.

The action of the house in putting this provision to repeal in the tax reduction bill was accepted by acclamation after the senate had rejected, 49 to 32, the Norris amendment to open all income tax returns to public inspection. Senator Norris spoke five hours prior to the vote.

The senate went into its first night meeting of the session before reaching a vote on the publicity provision, which was regarded as one of the most controversial points in the bill.

Determined to get a final vote on the measure before the end of the week, both Republican and Democratic leaders are prepared to continue the day and night sessions.

Wednesday has been set as the deadline for passage of the bill by the senate if tax reduction is to be assured by March 15, when first income installments are due.

Fifteen Republicans, sixteen Democrats and one Farmer-Labor voted for publicity, while thirty-three Republicans and sixteen Democrats opposed the provision.

Senator Reed of Missouri voted for income tax publicity while Senator Williams voted against it.

Buildings Bill Up in Congress Next Week

Provides Expenditure Of 165 Million Dollars—Will Be Given Right-Of-Way Over Other Legislation.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The public buildings bill, providing courthouses, postoffices and other federal construction work in many states throughout the country for which Congressmen have been clamoring for ten years will be given the right-of-way in the House next Monday, leaders decided today.

The bill will carry a total of 165 million dollars. Of this amount, 100 millions are for new buildings, 50 million for buildings in Washington and 15 million to complete buildings previously authorized and partially constructed.

Germany Will File Application Wednesday

Consul to Formally File Application for Entrance Into League—Council to Act Friday

Geneva, Feb. 9.—The German consul at Geneva today notified the secretariat of the League of Nations he would deliver Germany's application to enter the League on Wednesday morning.

Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the League, announced that a meeting of the Council to consider Germany's application would be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Council will call a session of the Assembly to vote on Germany's admission on March 10, it is expected.

Dozens Are Injured in Strikers' Battle

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 9.—Three thousand New Jersey textile strikers today fought a pitched battle with police on a bridge between Clifton and this place. Dozens of men and women were injured.

ASK COOLIDGE TO INTERVENE

SENATORS WANT ARBITRATION IN COAL STRIKE.

TO CONSIDER MATTER

President Does Not See How Situation Is Changed By Solons' Action.

Washington, Feb. 9.—President Coolidge would not commit himself this afternoon on the Senate's request that he abandon his policy of "hands off" in the anthracite coal strike and invite the operators and miners to a joint conference at the White House.

News of the Senate's adoption of the Copeland resolution was communicated to Mr. Coolidge at the conclusion of the cabinet meeting and he told inquirers he would give it "careful consideration." The President, however, informed questioners that he did not see wherein the situation was changed any by the Senate's action for it had appeared to him that his intervention would have meant peace in the anthracite industry such action would have been taken months ago.

The fact that fifty-five Senators voted in favor of his intervention, however, constituted a serious feature to be considered, it was said.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Reversing itself completely, the Senate today requested President Coolidge to intervene in the anthracite coal strike by calling the anthracite miners and operators to the White House for a conference.

The Senate's action was taken by the adoption of the Copeland resolution which it twice voted down last week. Its adoption followed a flurry of debate in which administration leaders characterized the move as "futile" and sought to prevent its passage as an embarrassment to the administration but the Democrats rallied around the resolution and, supported by the insurgents, put it over, 55 to 21.

Believe K. C. Priest May Have Gone East

Information Obtained That Some Churchman Purchased Ticket About Time Hagedorn Disappeared.

Kansas City, Feb. 9.—Theories of murder, robbery and kidnapping were abandoned today by police in their search for the Rev. Francis E. Hagedorn, Catholic priest, who disappeared Saturday night.

It is now believed the priest left Kansas City on an eastbound train the night of his disappearance. He was seen Saturday morning in the union station by a brother priest, it became known. Churchmen here are at a loss to account for Hagedorn's leave taking.

Kansas City, Feb. 9.—Police and church authorities today were no nearer a solution to the mysterious disappearance last Saturday night of the Rev. Father Francis E. Hagedorn of the Immaculate Conception Church, who told brother priests before his departure he was going to make a sick call.

Information today that a priest had purchased a ticket for the East after Hagedorn disappeared Saturday night and the knowledge today that the churchman generally spends his vacation with a Father McKenna on Long Island, probably of the Brooklyn diocese, turned search towards New York.

Briand Governments Is Again Defeated

Paris, Feb. 9.—A governmental crisis was narrowly averted this afternoon when the Chamber of Deputies administered a second defeat in two days to the Briand government on clauses of a financial project. The Chamber agreed to refer the financial project back to the financial commission to find a compromise.

Misses Ruth and Ada Fisher went to St. Joseph this afternoon for a short visit at the home of their sister, Mrs. C. H. Gore.

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; slightly warmer Wednesday, lowest temperature tonight about freezing.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

THE MAN WHO RUNS AWAY.

What class of law violators constitute the greatest cowards?

One citizen probably will say the wife beater; another will propose the gangster; still another might suggest the sneak thief. But consider the driver of an automobile who runs away after injuring a person!

The driver who speeds away does not know how badly his victim is injured; he does not know whether he is slightly or fatally wounded. In spite of that he avoids responsibility of citizenship, or even of fair play the St. Louis Star points out. He leaves his victim, for all considerations of humanity, on the ground to die.

Juries naturally must be circumspect in piecing together evidence that tends to convict a man who leaves the scene of accident in which a person was killed or severely wounded. Bne where there is strong circumstantial evidence, such as that secured by the police in a recent case, juries should be severe. In the case referred to the driver did not stop. Broken bits of rim and headlight picked up at the scene of the accident fit in a particularly broken headlight of a suspect's machine. The number of the machine corresponds to the one speeding away from the accident.

What should a red-blooded jury do in a case of that kind? It would be well for it to make an example of the owner of the car if the evidence in court is as strong as the circumstantial evidence as prepared by the police.—Sedalia Democrat.

RULES OF THE AIR

After five years of discussion and planning, a set of air traffic rules has been worked out for this country. Here are the main features:

Balloons have the right of way, as sailing vessels have on the sea. Dirigibles have the right of way over airplanes. The latter, corresponding to steamships and motor craft on water, are assumed to be able to take care of themselves.

Aircraft meeting head on must turn to the right. One craft overtaking another shall pass to the right also.

"Dangerous proximity" is within 1,500 feet.

So now you know what to do when you take to the air, where traffic cops and signs are few.

Not everybody, though, is to be allowed to fly. There will be medical examinations for aviators, to determine their physical and mental fitness, with tests for "night blindness," among other things, and requirement of a "good family history."

These rules ought to be O. K., if expert authority can make them so. They were worked out, along with many others, affecting airship manufacture as well as flight, by the Aeronautic Safety Code Committee and the American Engineering Standards Committee. They represent the best thought of 50 experts from 29 organizations, and are sponsored by the United States Bureau of Standards and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Such a code has long been needed. If more definite official sanction of the government is desired, that should be promptly given.

interpretation of the signs of the zodiac for the guidance of back-yard gardeners, and collections of allegedly interesting facts and figures.

An oddity among almanacs is Old Moore's Almanac in London. Its purpose in the world is to forecast storm and strife. Some place on this globe it can find a disaster, war or storm for each day of the year, because of which it is popularly known as Old Moore's collection of horrors. No doubt the philosophy of its publishers is that an almanac's duty is to forewarn humanity that it may be forewarned.

Prophets, soothsayers and astrologers are not alone qualified to predict political disturbances in Mexico and Europe during 1926, as does Old Moore's Almanac, and this prognosticator of doom is on just as safe ground when it foretells of railroad accidents, sudden deaths, wars, fires, explosion and drownings. Instead of being predictions, these things are illustrations of the inevitable.

Predict Gold Rush Across Nile Plains

Discovery of Precious Metal In Tut's Sarcophagus May Result In Mad Hunt For Fortune.

By W. E. Drakeford.

(United Press Special Correspondent)

Cairo—Disturbed in his sleep of centuries, Tut-Ankh-Amen may have a message for modern civilization that will result in a gold rush across the vast plains stretching from the banks of the Nile.

Visitors who come to view the rich golden coffin of the pharaoh invariably turn to sober reflection as they stand in the Cairo Museum. Minds try to reach back through the hundreds of years and comprehend something of that bygone civilization, but out in the street, and brought back to the hard facts of today, reflections often turn to practical deductions.

View of the coffin is open to the public. Visitors see the traditional ancient style, following the contour of the mummy within, and an exquisite carving of the face in the likeness of the deceased.

Apart from the historical and artistic significance of the coffin, the fact cannot be overlooked that between seven and eight hundred-weight of pure gold was used in making this coffin. Even though he was a god-king, it is clear that the precious metal must have been obtainable in great quantities from some source which must be presumed to have been in the country itself.

The gold is of a reddish color, indicating the presence of copper. This affords a clue to its origin, for gold mined in certain parts of Egypt is known to have had an admixture of copper.

UNDER CAPITOL DOME Caesar Was the First Filibusterer.

By PAUL R. MALLON.

(United Press Staff Correspondent).

Washington, Feb. 9.—With filibusters, cloture rules and the Dawes plan of limiting debate seething in Washington, politicians have dug back into history and disclosed that Julius Caesar was the first filibusterer on record.

It was Caesar who would not vote to inflict capital punishment on the accomplices of Catiline in the old Roman senate. Just like the modern filibusterers in the senate he stood his ground and persisted in obstructing the measure, until his opponents ran at him with swords.

The word filibuster comes from the Spanish word filibustero, used in derision to denote West Indian pirates. The term later came to apply to all military adventurers and now is commonly used to apply to all legislators who resort to dilatory tactics to obstruct legislation.

The first filibuster on record in the United States came in 1790 when congress was quarreling over whether it should sit in New York or Philadelphia. It was largely a contest between saloon proprietors of the two cities who were using every possible influence to have congress confine its private drinking to their respective towns.

Resolutions favoring each town were deadlocked and it was only after weeks of discussion a compromise was reached that congress should sit in neither place, but should go to Baltimore.

Thomas Jefferson first suggested a rule for preventing possible filibusters when he proposed a provision that at 8 o'clock each night the speaker of the house should declare that the time had arrived for a vote on whatever question might be then pending before the house. Later more stringent rules were adopted and now it is practically impossible to carry on a successful filibuster in the house.

The senate however has refused to adopt a stringent cloture believing the rights of the minority should be protected, in at least one of the houses.

The chief opposition to the Dawes proposal for cloture in the senate can be found in the fact that practically every senator who has been in that body a long time has at some point or other in his career used the filibuster.

The first record for lengthy speaking came in the senate in 1890 when the force bill precipitated a two months filibuster. Charles J. Faulkner achieved the record by speaking continuously for 13 hours. In 1893 William V. Allen of Nebraska talked sixteen hours and a half against repealing the purchase clause of the Sherman Silver law.

Ben Tillman of South Carolina in 1903 staged the first vaudeville filibuster when he took the floor with a copy of "Childe Harold" and assured his fellow members he would entertain them by reading from Byron until the session ended, if they did not put back a certain item in a deficiency appropriation bill. They put it back.

A filibuster that failed was staged by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin in 1908 when he attempted unsuccessfully to kill the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill by holding the floor for eighteen hours. In 1915 Senator Smoot, now chairman of the senate finance committee, talked twelve hours against the ship purchase bill. He was not helped by a single quorum call and did not once lean on his desk.

SAYS OUTLOOK BRIGHTER NOW

IOWAN DECLARES FARMERS ARE IN BETTER SHAPE.

"SURPLUS IS MYTH"

Apparent Excess Merely Lack of Proper
Balance In Distribution, Agriculture Report Contends.

Des Moines, Feb. 9.—Iowa farmers are not rolling in wealth but they are better off than a year ago and the reported corn surplus is a myth. With this statement John Thompson, editor of the Iowa Homestead, a farm magazine, rebuked those who declare Iowa is in a bad shape.

The total corn crop of the country last year, Thompson said, was slightly below the four-year average and the Iowa huge crop was a blessing.

Although the price of corn is down, many Iowa farmers are profiting by feeding it to cattle and hogs which, he said, bring good prices.

Thompson said that Iowa farmers are 124 million dollars better off than last year.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—The "great surplus of farm products," about which the American farmer is so greatly concerned, is, to a great extent, a myth, a report of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, made public today, says in effect.

Much of the apparent surplus is merely lack of proper balance in distribution, the report says. The survey is based on an investigation on the part of crop reporters in all parts of the country. The corn crop is below the five-year average, the report contends, "and is meeting with an inadequate demand."

Oil to Be Sought in Southern Illinois

Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 9.—Prospects of oil in Southern Illinois are attracting attention of local business men, so much so that the first company has been formed to make a test.

The plans call for a test well on a farm three miles south of Carbondale, where it is said that oil indications have been found.

Abraham Lincoln One of King Tut's Family, Says Expert

New London, Feb. 9. (United Press).—Abraham Lincoln was a descendant of King Tut, one time ruler of the Egyptians, Prof. Henry L. Lawrence, Jr., of the Connecticut College for Women told his history classes. Professor Lawrence said that the family of Lincoln's mother, Nancy Hanks, had been traced back to England, down to the Roman conquest. He said that Romans used Egyptian troops in the conquest and occupation of Britain. One of the officers was a noble Egyptian bearing the name of Ankh, who was a descendant of King Tut-Ankh-Amen and who decided to settle permanently in Britain, starting the family that later changed the name into Hanks, Prof. Lawrence claimed.

Negro Protests Hand Shaking With Corpse

Youngstown, O., Feb. 9. (United Press).—Being compelled to look at a corpse is bad enough, Henry Jones, negro prisoner believes, but when you are forced to shake hands with one "that's terrible."

And because it was "terrible" Jones has brought about the suspension of Police Captain Marty Hines and Sgt. George Pavic, who he charge, forced him to look at the body of a suicide, then compelled him to shake the corpse's hand.

Hines and Pavic deny the charge.

Kirkville Girl Is Wed on Saturday, Elopes on Sunday

Married to one man on Saturday afternoon and then skipping out with another Sunday night, is what Mrs. Mamie Kirkpatrick Head, 19 years old, of Kirkville, did, according to her husband's story to the county officers as told in the Kirkville Express and News.

The husband, who is Jesse Head, also of Kirkville, told the officers that he and Miss Kirkpatrick were united in marriage Saturday afternoon and then went to housekeeping in the southwest part of the city. Everything seemed to be going all right until he stepped out for a short time Sunday night. Although he was gone only a few minutes, when he returned to the house he found his wife absent. He waited a few minutes for her return and when she did not put in an appearance, he began to look through the house for her.

He spied a note lying on a table and when he read it he was informed that she had left with another man.

Head named a man with whom Miss Kirkpatrick formerly kept company as being the one with whom she eloped. He said the man formerly lived near Willmathsville.

The officers extended sympathy to the husband but informed him that they did not have any grounds for arresting him, but that he might see an attorney and bring suit against him.

Announce Birth of Daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Edmett Bishop of Ravenwood announce the birth of a daughter at St. Francis Hospital this morning.

AUNT HET

"I ain't got no time for a woman that scolds about people bein' cruel to animals an' gives her husband warned-over virtials."

'Copyright, 1925. Pub's Syndicate.'

Next Sunday is Valentine's Day. This announcement is for several classes of people. In the first place, it is for the tired business man, whose wife is really his valentine, but who is so tired at the end of each week that he probably will forget the fact. And if he does forget it, his wife probably won't say anything but she'll feel just the same way as when on the wedding anniversary she asks her husband, "What day is this?" and he reflects a moment and says, "Sunday."

And next, it's for the class of people who might forget to remember Mother with the card or greeting which means that she hasn't been forgotten.

It's also for those who must remember Lady Friend, teacher, or classmate.

And finally, its for those who have a mania for sending comics to the crippled, the infirm, and the unfortunate. This class won't forget the day. It will be just as prominent as ever and, while perpetrating one kind of joke on the newlywed or the business associate, will cause a pang in the heart of many others.

So, don't forget the date. February 14. Next Sunday!

The following story, concerning Blaine Archer, a former Maryville resident, is vouched for by the Shenandoah Sentinel-World:

Archer Speaks But—

If you happen to be going along Sheridan Avenue some pleasant evening and hear Blaine Archer, President Chamber of Commerce, making a speech on the corner do not be surprised. It will just be a bit of absent mindedness on his part. He was engaged to speak at the Congregational Church yesterday morning before the Men's Club. C. N. Marvin, chairman of the program committee, reminded him of it three or four times and he said he sure would not forget it—and he didn't Sunday morning about the time the Sunday Schools assemble, he meandered over toward the church group studying what he should say. He came to some high steps and saw some men going in and he joined the procession and presently found himself seated with a bunch of about thirty men. They treated him courteously, said they were glad to see him and hoped he would come often. He apologized a little for not being much of a speaker, as all good speakers do, but said he would do the best he could, and then he went ahead and made a rattling good speech. The men assembled looked at each other and then looked at him, and congratulated themselves on getting a fine speech unexpectedly. After it was all over and the men congratulated him he inquired of some one where Marvin was. "Oh, he is probably over to the Congregational Church," was the reply. "Why, isn't this the Congregational Church?" "No, this is the Christian Church." And then Archer fainted.

But he is being scheduled again at the Congregational church two weeks hence, and a guide will be furnished him. Shirley Leavitt is to speak for the Congos next Sunday.

An egotists diary must read like a love letter to himself.

What Jerry Says

These educated flappers as far as I can see, Are not so very different from what they used to be.

Some girls those days were quiet and some were coarse and loud, Some followed every fashion and some were poor and proud.

Just what they were allowed to be, by parents, fools or wise, So what the girls are nowadays should occasion no surprise.

As far as I've discovered they're what they want to be, Because there's no restrictions, its very plain to see.

When grandma sets the pattern, and mother follows suit, Then daughter goes one better, that's where I think she's cute.

It's no use now to spank her, with a slipper or bed slat, We should have started years ago, it's much too late for that.

She should have had wise parents like they had in grandpa's day; Who knew how to use a paddle, in the good old-fashioned way.

You say: There's nothing to that, it simply isn't done, I know it; that's the trouble with Daughter, Us and Son.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Grain futures staged a comeback on the Board of Trade here today. Prices closed moderately higher. Wheat was nervous and went into numerous price swings before enough strength developed. Small grains gathered momentum from the major cereal and finished with good gains.

Moderate short covering and an easing up in pressure, suggesting an over-sold condition, rallied wheat. General sentiment remained bearish many houses warning against following price swings too closely. Best buying in the last hours came from traders who sold for profits at higher levels. Bids were good for the first time since this form of trading was resumed. Expert business was flat.

Corn started a shade lower and then rallied. Strong interests supported the market when commission house selling eased. The movement of grain from the country was very large but showed a decrease under previous shipments.

Oats went into new low levels on the crop but regained losses later and finished higher in sympathy with other grains.

Provisions were extremely dull with prices around the previous closing level.

HOGS AND LAMBS LOWER.

CATTLE STRONGER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Feb. 8.—Demand for fat steers was more active today than for some time past. Prices ruled strong to 15 cents higher, spots up more. Killers bought freely and while there was nothing with outstanding finish offered several bunches brought $10 to $10.25. Stock and feeding grades were in active demand. The decline in hogs which started the middle of last week continued today with the result that quotations are 50 to 75 cents under last week's high point. Lambs were down 25 cents, and in the lowest position of the season.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 13,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs, and 6,500 sheep, compared with 15,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep a week ago, and 16,200 cattle, 9,100 hogs, and 7,750 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

With cattle receipts 2,000 smaller than a week ago, and practically the entire decrease in fed steers prices ruled strong to 15 cents higher under an active trade. Quality in the average was plain to fairly good and about the same as for some time past. The best kinds offered sold at $9.75 to $10.25, and prime kinds, had they been available would have sold above last week's top made at $10.75. The bulk of the fat steers sold at $8.50 to $9.50. Four car loads of 1,166 pound south Texas grass steers brought $7.50. Cows and heifers were fully steady. Demand remained active. Choice cows sold up $7.50 and heifers up to $9.75. Veal calves were steady, top $12.

Stockers and Feeders.

Prices for stockers and feeders were unchanged and demand remained larger than the supply. There is no indication that the runs will increase.

Hogs.

Hog prices today were off 10 to 25 cents, mostly 15 cents under last week's high point. Prices have declined steadily since last Wednesday, but the late trade today indicated that the decline is at an end. The top price $13.25 was paid for light lights, lights sold at $12.75 to $13.20; medium weights $12.65 to $13, and heavy weights $12.25 to $12.75. Packing sows brought $10.75 to $11.25; stags $8.75 to $9.25, and stock hogs and pigs $13 to $13.75.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lamb prices today were down 25 cents and in the lowest position of the season. Light weight lambs are quoted at $13.75 to $14; medium weight, $13.25 to $13.75 and heavy lambs $12.50 to $13.25. Ewes are selling at $8 to $8.50; wethers $8.75 to $9.50 and yearlings $10.50 to $12.25.

Horses and Mules.

Trade in horses and mules is active at strong prices. The general market is $5 to $10 a head higher than in early January.

DETAILED RULES ARE ANNOUNCED FOR DISTRICT SPELLING CONTEST HERE

Rules for the district spelling contest, to be held here on March 11, following the county contest on February 20, have been sent out by the committee, of which Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, is a member. The rules differ little from those for the county contest.

Homer T. Phillips, of the State Teachers College faculty, has been selected as leader of the contest. Entries are to be mailed to him not later than March 7. Other members of the college faculty will assist in the contest, and three of them will be selected to serve as judges, one in each department of the contest. There will be three divisions: High school, elementary and rural.

Only one contestant in each division from each county may enter the district contest. The second winner in the county contest may enter the district contest only in case the first winner be unable to attend. The State Teachers College will give gold, silver and bronze medals in each division of the contest, and a banner will be given in each division to the winning county. The word list will be selected by the college from the metropolitan newspaper and will not be available for contestants. The same word list will be used in each division.

The district contest is to be in writing. All contestants will be given numbers which will be the only identification marks on their papers. Only contestants and their county superintendents of schools will be permitted in the rooms while words are being pronounced.

The New International Dictionary, 1925 edition, will be the standard for correct spelling of words and no pupil will be counted out until the word missed has been checked by the dictionary. Pupils will not be counted out for failure to use capital letters or hyphens. They will be graded on their "honest intentions" in the spelling of words.

An additional pronouncer will be provided in each room to check the pronunciation of words and to see that the pronouncer pronounces the words correctly. A short list of words will be pronounced as a "limbering up" exercise before the contest proper begins. Then 100 words will be pronounced, checked and graded, and if there are ties for first, second or third place in any division, additional word lists of fifty each will be given out until all except the winners are eliminated.

The contest will be held at the State Teachers College on Thursday, March 11, the day prior to the Northwest Missouri basketball tournament.

Besides Mr. Somerville, members of the district spelling committee are Fred E. Roach, superintendent of Buchanan County, and Miss Irene O'Brien, superintendent of Daviess County.

How To Quickly Stop Bad Coughs

It is often surprising how quickly the heaviest cough disappears when treated by a remarkable new method.

Here is the method, based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So the severest cough soon disappears completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

TOMORROW.

SPRING'LD THURSDAY

Warrensburg Only Team in M. I. A.
A. With Less Than Two Games
This Week.

The basketball offerings here for this week are on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Tomorrow night the State Teachers College Bearcats will meet the Indians from Cape Girardeau, and Thursday night they will play the M. I. A. leaders, the Bears of the Springfield State Teachers College.

The Cape squad will likely arrive in Maryville on the 5 o'clock train tomorrow morning. The full Indian squad will probably make the trip and it is on a three-game trip, going to Kirksville on Thursday and Warrensburg on Friday.

Coach H. Frank Lawrence was not so certain of his starting line-up for tomorrow night. If Blomfield, guard, and captain last year, has recovered from an injured hand, he will start the game. Otherwise, Burks will be in the guard position, and Hedges, promising substitute forward, will be the running mate of Captain Aldrich. If Blomfield starts, Burk will be at forward instead of Hedges. Berst will jump center.

The game will start at 8 o'clock. John Bunn, former Kansas University star, will referee. Bunn will remain in Maryville Thursday and referee the Springfield game that night.

The Springfield team will likely arrive in Maryville Thursday noon. It, too, is on a trip, going to Kirksville from here, where a game will be played on Friday night.

Cape Girardeau has three games this week; Maryville has two; Springfield, two; Kirksville, two; and Warrensburg, one. This should rearrange the conference standing materially.

SPORT COMMENT

They can say they don't care whether they win or not, but they do. "It's neither if you won or lost, but how you played the game," makes a grand, idealistic spirit, but how far does it go.

What do you hear when you're having a winning team? You hear this, "It's not the winning or losing; it's how you played, how much you fought." But if you lose, what do these idealists say? "A rotten coach, a poor team, a crooked referee, a fudging scorer, and an unfair timer," is their chant. "Why didn't we win? What do we get by losing? This is a crime which could easily have been prevented if—" That's their wail. And then they give their reasons.

Sugar without sand, milk without water, business dealings without robbery—all are ideals.

We're idealistic in our utterings, mostly, but we're mercenary in our actions. It's the spirit of winning that prevails.

Westminster court last night with a record of six straight conference victories but were unable to solve the attack of the Birds, the Fulton team winning, 34 to 22.

Play in the first half was close, neither team being able to pull away to a comfortable lead and when the period closed, the count stood 9 to 9. The second half, however, was a different story. With Conners "planted" as the cog in the scoring attack, the Blue Jays passed, dribbled and shot their way to victory. Conners engaged eight baskets from the field and with one free throw made half of his team's points. The victory gives Westminster a record of five straight college union triumphs.

The famed Hillyard basketball contingent from St. Joseph, Mo., runner-up to the national amateur championship last year, defeated the Coliseum A. C. Quintet, 34 to 19 at St. Louis last night. It was the nineteenth straight victory for the Hillyards, who were piloted by Forrest DeBarnard, the "Red Grange" of the court game.

Missourian Doubts Clark "Heirs" Claims

Montgomery City, Mo., Feb. 9.—(United Press).—Mrs. Maggie Blades, known as the best historian of affairs in this district, said she believed there was no foundation to the claim of three women—two from Missouri and one from Colorado—that they were daughters of the late Senator William A. Clark, Montana millionaire.

In recounting some of the history of the millionaire copper magnate she said he and his son fell in love with the same girl and that the elder Clark withdrew in favor of his son.

She said such a move as this did not fit with the claims of the three women that Clark had deserted their mother and them many years ago.
